PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Marketing director for a $50 million Texas company. I build the brand, website, sales materials and trade show presence that help a sales team win customers. I work side by side with sales, write in plain language and get things done. Background in logistics and warehouse work.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Lone Star Furnishings Sep 2025 - Present

Director of Marketing & Sales Integration Carrollton, TX

- Led a refresh of the company brand, with a new look and written guidelines so everything we put out looks and sounds like one company.
- Developed the company's core messaging and the voice we use for social posts, print and sales presentations.
- Make the sales materials reps use every day: brochures, flyers, case studies, bid templates and presentations for school districts.
- Wrote the plan to improve our Google search results: set up redirects for broken links, rewrote page titles and descriptions, and added local pages for each region.
- Designed and built a new website layout for school district buyers, using HTML and CSS.
- Lead our trade show program, 7+ conferences a year: booth design, signs, giveaways and shipping, plus planning a large 20 x 40 ft exhibit.
- Built an email and phone campaign to 181 school district superintendents and principals, with a simple 3-email, 2-call plan reps can reuse.
- When a new competitor entered at about 30% lower prices, created our response: a partnership offer and a map of how Texas districts buy, so sales could win on service instead of price.
- Promoted workshops with a national manufacturer partner in Houston and Dallas-Fort Worth, writing the invitation emails and preparing flyers.
- Partner with the VP of Sales on sales strategy and help lead the team's biweekly meeting, bringing marketing ideas straight to the field.
